

New! 2019 Thermal Corporation Catalog Released

Thermal Corporation has just released our 2019 product catalog with major updates to the entire design. The front cover features an image with a variety of Thermal Corporation products including some cartridge heaters, a band heater, a rectangular band heater, a HotNoz nozzle band heater, and a handful of thermocouples. The front cover also announces that this is our 50th year in business! But, more about that later. The catalog has an easy-to-follow Table of Contents page which shows the starting page numbers for each section of the catalog, which is broken down into our product categories.

What's New!

The major changes we've made to this edition of the catalog include:

- ✓ Quality page - a page about our quality improvement manufacturing standard
- ✓ Company History page
- ✓ Custom Design Orders information page
- ✓ Office building photo
- ✓ Appendix section - a section with additional information on certain products in an easy-to-read format
- ✓ Real photographs of certain products
- ✓ Product diagrams on section pages
- ✓ Thermocouple Codes/Conductor Combinations & Characteristics Chart - this was excluded in the previous catalog but has been featured in older Thermal Corporation catalogs. We have decided to bring it back!

Major Changes

- ✓ Separate Table of Contents Page - the table of contents now has its own page
- ✓ Layout of Catalog - each product has its own color-coded section and all the information about that product is under that color unless otherwise specified in the catalog.
- ✓ Contact information Location - now located towards the front of the catalog instead of the back

- ✓ Ordering information Location - also located towards the front instead of the last page
- ✓ Color-coded sections are easier to see against font colors
- ✓ Different font and larger font size makes our catalog easier to read
- ✓ Ceramic Knuckle Band Heater configuration images now show both one-piece and two-piece heaters

So, as you can tell, we have added and changed a lot about our catalog to make it both concise and complete with all the product information you need.

Our catalog is available in print and online. Click here to view the catalog!